They say also that the suit is an attempt to ruin the irrigation company and spoil the prospects of settlers.

In the meantime the state board of land commissioners, after hearing the complaints of the setttlers on Oasis tract in Millard county, has given the company until next Friday to make arrangements whereby it can pay its debts to the land board and to others and complete its project to the satisfaction of the settlers.

William H. King, attorney for the Oasis company, is now in the east seeking to raise funds for the completion of the irrigation system. In the event that the company cannot finance the completion of the irrigation system and pay its indebtedness already incurred, a receivership is imminent and the project will pass into other hands as a result of litiga-

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The Y. W. C. A. rooms are unusually uiet these days, while the cafeteria temporarily closed. At a meeting f the board of directors it was de-Many of the members have exressed themselves as greatly missing the noon lunch and the pleasant social chat, the ten-minutes' reading, or the much-needed rest in the rest room.

This is the busy season for raveler's aid secretary, Miss Clark. The office also entertains a great many travelers, who depend, more and more, on using the Y. W. C. A. rooms as their eadquarters, for getting various kinds of information and for being directed to boarding home or rooms. The boarding home has been obliged to turn away many for lack of accommodation.
